

Meeting your legal duties on equalities in procurement

Half day Workshop for officers responsible for procurement and equality leads

Tuesday Sept 11th

10.30am to 1pm

Venue, St John's Parish Centre, Trowbridge.

Objectives

Recent commissions, including the Equalities Review, have highlighted the difficulties authorities face in trying to incorporate their legal duties to include equalities considerations into the contracting process.

We will present examples from other authorities across the country and provide examples of common tools and clauses, which authorities can use.

Format

Speakers with experience of best practices and practical hands on sessions:

- Understanding the legal duties
- Why equality matters in a rural area
- Including equalities at every stage of contracting process

More information

To express an interest, contact Di Parkin : diparkin@cmps.uk.com. 01803 868535